

UK Freelancer AI Invoice and Proposals Pack

Proposals, quotes, invoices, reminders and scope replies in UK English, without the AI inventing your prices.

What's inside

• How to use the pack	p.2
• Your context block	p.3
• Proposals	p.4
• Quotes	p.5
• Invoices and reminders	p.6
• Scope creep	p.7
• Late payers	p.8
• Quick index	p.9

How to use it

1. Fill the context block once. Paste it at the top of every new chat.
2. Pick the prompt for the job: proposal, quote, invoice, chase or scope reply.
3. Swap every [square bracket] for a real fact. Unknown? Write 'unknown'.
4. Edit the draft like a human. You're the business owner; the AI is the clerk.

Print it or type into it

Print at 100% on A4, or copy prompts straight from the PDF. Works with ChatGPT, Claude, Gemini or Copilot. Not legal, tax or financial advice: you check and send every draft.

Three rules

- ## Tone words you can add to any prompt

Before you send anything

- ## Notes

Fill this in once. Keep it in your notes app.

Fill this in once. Keep it in your notes app.

```
CONTEXT (facts only, do not go beyond this):
Name: [ ] Trading name: [ ]
What I do: [e.g. freelance brand designer]
Location: UK Currency: GBP
VAT registered: [yes / no]
Day rate (if I use one): £[ ]
Typical project prices I actually charge: [ ]
Payment terms: [e.g. 50% deposit, balance in 14 days]
How I get paid: [bank transfer / Stripe link]
Usual tone: [plain / warm / firm / short]
Things I never claim: [e.g. guaranteed results]
Sign-off: [ ]
```

Email good manners

Contact people who asked for a quote or already work with you. Say who you are. For anything that looks like marketing, add 'If you'd rather not hear from me, just reply STOP.' Don't email bought lists.

Contact people who asked for a quote or already work with you. Say who you are. For anything that looks like marketing, add 'If you'd rather not hear from me, just reply STOP.' Don't email bought lists.

Proposals

Turn messy discovery notes into a clear proposal with options and exclusions.

B0 Discovery facts

paste into B1-B4

FACTS (use only these, never make anything up):
Me: [name], [what I do]
Client: [name / company]
Project: []
What they want, must-haves and nice-to-haves: []
Budget or timeline they mentioned (or 'unknown'): []
Already agreed as out of scope: []
My pricing: [day rate / fixed / package]
Payment terms: [e.g. 50% deposit, balance on delivery]

B1 Notes into a proposal

You're my UK freelance proposal writer. Use only the facts below. Don't invent prices, timelines or guarantees. UK English.
[paste discovery facts]
Write a proposal with these headings: 1) What you need 2) What's included 3) What's not included 4) How we'll do it 5) Investment 6) Timeline 7) Payment terms 8) Next step.
Where a fact is missing, write NEED INPUT.

B2 Three options

Write three clear options using only these prices:
Option A (core): £[], includes []
Option B: £[], adds []
Option C: £[], adds []
For each: who it suits, what's different, the price and one honest trade-off. Under 280 words.

B3 What's included and what isn't

Write a short 'Not included' and 'Assumptions' section as bullet points from my notes. Anything unclear goes under 'To confirm with you'. No legal disclaimers.
Notes: [paste] My usual exclusions: []

B4 Covering email

Write a short email (under 110 words) sending this proposal. Tone: [plain / warm]. One line on what's attached, one clear next step. Don't mention a conversation we didn't have.
Client: [] Project: [] Attachment: [file name]

Notes

For jobs where a full proposal is overkill.

Terms: ☐ Included: ☐ Not included: ☐

Give me a one-page quote layout with labelled sections: my details, client details, quote ref and dates, line items table, totals, what's included, what's not, payment terms, acceptance. Leave every amount as [square brackets].

Changes I agree to: []

From invoice to paid, without sounding like a debt collector.

paste into D1-D4

Me: [name / trading name]

Client: []

Invoice number: []

Amount: £[] (VAT: [£ / not registered])

Sent: [date] Due: [date] Days overdue: []

Work: [one line]

Already done: [e.g. emailed 1 Sep, reminder 15 Sep]

List what a UK sole trader invoice should include, split into must-have and nice-to-have, given that I am [VAT registered / not VAT registered]. Checklist only, not tax advice.

[paste invoice facts]

Write a polite reminder email (under 120 words) with a subject line. One clear ask: when will it be paid? No threats.

```
[paste invoice facts]
```

They've had a friendly reminder already. Write a firm, professional email (under 140 words) stating the amount and due date once and asking for a payment date this week or a reason in writing.

```
[paste invoice facts]
```

Write a final, factual reminder (under 150 words). Only mention a next step if I list one here: [next step or 'none']. Don't invent fees or legal action.

Notes

Protect the agreed scope without falling out.

My client asked for: [request]. Our agreed scope included: [inclusions]. It's outside because: [reason]. I can offer: [option].

Write a warm but clear reply (under 130 words). Thank them, explain it's extra without blame, offer my option, ask one question.

Write a short change quote for extra work. Project: [] Original ref: []
Extra work: [] Price: £[] Effect on timeline: []
Include: what changes, the price, that the original plan carries on if they say no, and a line for them to reply 'agreed'.

Write a friendly mid-project update (under 120 words) restating what's left in scope: [remaining items], and inviting any changes to come as a written request.

Only use pause-work wording if you really will pause work.

Give me a three-step reminder plan: friendly, firm, final. For each, the day to send it relative to the due date, a subject line and a two-sentence purpose.

I need to...	Use
Turn call notes into a proposal	B1
Offer three price options	B2
Write what's not included	B3
Send a quote by email	C1
Change a quote after feedback	C3
Check my invoice has everything	D1
Chase a late invoice	D2, D3, D4
Say no to extra work politely	E1
Price extra work	E2
Plan reminders for several invoices	F1
Offer a payment plan	F3