- C. Waiting-on tracker (2)
- D. Meeting notes → actions (2)
- E. Weekly director skim (2)
- F. PECR-safe email drafts (2)
- G. Fill-in context block (1)

A · How to use

Model-agnostic. Paste Section G context first, then one prompt. Never invent facts, amounts, dates, or names. Missing fields stay as [PLACEHOLDER]. UK English. You remain responsible for what you send.

- Paste real invoices / names / amounts / dates only
- Ask for sendable drafts, not essays
- B2B tone — no spammy subjects
- Label cold vs warm (PECR)
- Not a substitute for accountant or solicitor

Workflow: Context → one prompt → edit → send (or don't).

B1 · Invoice chase — polite

You help a UK Ltd director draft a polite invoice chase email.

Facts (do not invent):

Company: [YOUR LTD] | Customer: [NAME]

Invoice #: [NO] | Amount: £[AMT] | Due: [DATE] | Days overdue: [N] | VAT: [yes/no]

Write: subject + 4–6 sentence email, UK English, polite, one clear ask, one reply CTA.

Filled: Acme Widgets Ltd · INV-1042 · £1,240 · due 1 Sep · 16 days · subject "Invoice INV-1042 — quick check"

B2 · Invoice chase — firm + final

Firm

Same invoice facts. Firmer chase: state overdue days, ask for a payment date this week, offer to resolve disputes on reply. No threats. Subject + body.

Final (before escalation)

Same facts. Final notice tone: payment by [DATE]; next step is formal recovery / solicitor letter (generic – do not invent legal process). Still B2B PECR-safe. Subject + body.

C1 · Waiting-on — messy notes → table

Turn messy notes into a waiting-on table:
What / Who | Opened | Next chase date | Channel | Status
Then draft one chase email for the top overdue row. Facts only. UK English.
NOTES:
[PASTE]

Filled: Trip form · 12 Sep · chase 19 Sep · email office · open

C2 · Waiting-on — close the loop

From this waiting-on table, list items that can close today with a one-line closed note each. Flag still-open items with next chase date. Do not invent completions.

Optional: "Sunday 2-minute sweep" — move chase dates  $\leq$  today to the top.

D1 · Meeting notes → decisions + actions

Convert rough notes/transcript into:

1) Decisions (bullets)

2) Actions: Owner | Task | Deadline

UK English. Do not invent attendees or deadlines.

NOTES:

[PASTE]

D2 · Meeting follow-up email

From the decisions/actions above, draft one PECR-safe follow-up email to attendees (warm / existing relationship). Subject + body. Include clear next step. Facts only.

Filled: Subject "Notes + next steps from Tue call" · Sam SOW by Fri

E1 · Weekly director skim — Monday 20 min

UK Ltd Monday skim. From facts below produce:

1) Cash / invoices pulse (3 bullets)

2) Waiting-on top 3

3) Calendar risks this week

4) One “must decide” (single choice)

If thin, say what is missing. Facts only.

FACTS:

[PASTE]

E2 · Must-decide card

Take the “must decide” from the skim and write:

- Decision in one sentence
  - Option A / Option B
  - Cost/risk of delay (one line)
  - Suggested owner + deadline
- No invented numbers.

Filled: Approve Sep marketing spend £400 — yes/no — decide by Wed

F1 · PECR-safe — warm / existing customer

Draft a warm B2B service email to an existing customer about [TOPIC]. Include clear stop language (“reply STOP if you prefer no further emails on this”). No spammy subject. UK English. Facts: [PASTE]

F2 · PECR-safe — cold B2B (careful)

Draft a short cold B2B outreach for UK Ltds about [OFFER]. Assume no prior consent. Factual, one soft ask, no bought-list tone, no misleading claims. Note director must check PECR/legitimate interest before send. Facts: [PASTE]

Subject hygiene: no ALL CAPS, no fake urgency, no fake “Re:”.

G · Fill-in context block (paste first)

CONTEXT — facts only, UK Ltd
Company legal name: [ ]
Trading as: [ ]
Companies House number (optional): [ ]
My role: [Director / Ops / ...]
Tone: [plain / warm / firm]
Audience: [customer / supplier / staff / cold B2B]
Never invent numbers, dates, or legal claims.
If unknown, use [PLACEHOLDER].

Not legal, tax, or financial advice. PECR/GDPR notes are practical hygiene — you remain responsible. Not a substitute for accountant or solicitor.
